ADMITTED BY THE CHANCELLOR'S ORDER.

THE COURT OVERRULES THE MANAGERS OF THE RACETRACK.

The Monmouth Park managers were unhappy terday. They moved about sadly and with darkened brows. The cause for their melancholy was the fact that seated just behind the press stand during the races was Tracey Bronson, of "The New-York Times," one of the racing writers who had been deprived of the privilege of the track for printing criticisms of the racing. It was not by the courtesy of the association that he was present. He was a most unwelcome guest, but as he had come own armed with an order from Chancellor McGill. there was nothing to do but to admit him. It was bitter pill, but the managers were compelled to wallow it. The writ issued to Mr. Bronson holds good until August 14, when a hearing on the merits of the case will take place. The racing began with a victory for Gideon & Daly's bolt Kazan. They backed him well, and as their colors were borne to victory again in the second race by Ramapo, and in the sixth by Merry Monarch, their winnings on the day must have amounted to a enug sum. Their good fortune may also bring a change of plans as regards selling the stable, which It was commonly reported was the intention of its wners before the day began.

was the favorite, yet 8 to 5 could always be had against him, many doubting his ability as a sprinter. It did not take him long, once the tart was made, to convince the doubters, for he was front or thereabout the entire journey. The Camden Stakes fell to the Westerner, John Cooper. When he won a selling race on Tuesday many observers were pleased with his showing. The Rancocas colt Lochinvar was second, and gaining on the leader at every jump. In the spring he was thought of no account, and was for sale. It looks now as if he might prove a fair coll. Sleipner's victory in the Harvest Handleap was greeted with a round of hearty applause from the spectators. The race was interesting from the start, and the winner was handled in masterly style. The bid made by Mars in the last hundred yards, after having fallen back from his position as pacemaker, was almost stairling. At every stride he was catching the leader, and with the finish a sixteenth further on, he must have wen. Banquet's running was wretched. Probably the horse needs a letup.

A TRAINER'S NOTES ON THE TURF.

A TRAINER'S NOTES ON THE TURF.

The racing at Monmouth Park attracted the usual Saturday attendance yesterday, with some newcomers from the beaches and the Court of Chancery. Tracy Bronson, accompanied by Fellx H. Levy, who was armed with a mandatory injunction, appeared at the gate before the first race and demanded admission. The writs were served on A. F. Walcott and the members of the Executive Committee. Mr. Bronson was admitted. The writs are to be returned on August 14. Mr. Bronson will be admitted every race day at least until then.

Trainer Hattleld received a cable message from Colonel North instructing him emphatically to obey the orders of one of his agents in this country. The horses have been shipped to Saratoga. Hattleld will return to Eag. land next week. He has made many friends in this country. All the trainers say that Mr. Hattleld did remarkably well with the horses, as they were ill and not acclimated. Arture was killed at Morris Patk. Hieh Commissioner is afflicted with rheumatism. Iddesleich won two races, but is not by any means a high-class horse. The stable was overmanaged, is the verdict of some trainers. Thomas Haley, the new trainer, is likely to have his own way and train the horses without interference, so Colonel North's colors may possibly be first past the finishing post occasionally at the fails that the issue of the grandest racehorses ever foaded. Who will train Meddler! This is a question asset of many turfmen. It is not likely that the question will be answered until the latter part of next week. Some of the leading trainers say that it does not make any difference who trains the colt, if he is not better than the recent

Richard Croker is at Richfield Springs. The report that Frank McCabe was going to train Mr. Croker's horses caused McCabe to laugh. He said: "I have never spoken to Mr. Croker in my life. I hardly believe he knows me by sight." One of the frequenters of the cinthnovae said that Mr. Croker's standing in society was menaced by some of bis associations at Monmouth Park, and that he went to Richfield Springs to square himself. Edward Kelly and W. L. Hamersley were at the track. Mr. Kelly said that McCilone's career as a jockey is eided. "I was not at Brighton Beach." he said, "but I am satisfied that he deserved the punishment or he would not have been ruled off."

It was said that a certain bookmaker "had the boy" and that he rode to suit the bookmaker whenever he was asked to do so. Mr. Kelly intended to engage the jockey for the season, but is now satisfied to trust to luck whenever he starts a horse.

GOOD CRICKET GAMES PLAYED. CONTESTS AT MORRIS PARK AND AT PATER.

SON, N. J. The cricketers of New-York had a gala day yesterday and several brilliant contests took place for the local championship. The best game of the day was played at Morris Park, where the Staten Island Tricket Club, after a hard struggle, succeeded in gaining a victory by 21 runs. They outplayed the home team only in the field, and, had the work of the Morris Park men in this depattment been as it should, the came would have had a different result. The score follows:

THE CHAMPIONSHIP RACE A PAILURE.

Orillia, Out., July 22.- The single-skull race for the championship of America, between J. G. Gaudaur and Edward Hanlan, here today, resulted in disap-pointment for the 10,000 speciators who were prethe word "go" Hanlan secured a slight lead. were rowing dangerously close together all the way of the course, and at the first mile their oars became locked and the men ceased rowing for several minntes. After the scullers became separated Hanlan continued on alone and rowed over the course in 21 minutes 12 seconds. Gaudaur turned back and claimed a foul. Referee Douglas after hearing the men and darkness coming on, decided that the rac-must be rowed over on Monday afternoon. Muci-disappointment was felt at the result of the race.

"The Bond Enver," a weekly financial journal, edited by William F. G. Shanks, in its issue of July 22, has an extremely vigorous article in regard to Mr. Shanks advises employers to discharge such clerks, and denounces the racetracks as now managed in very earnest and emphatic language.

Brooklyn, yesterday, through the intense heat, experiencing regatious delays in the crowded and slow moving elevated trains, by the team in its two rames with the Baltimores was simply ridiculous. The games with the Baltimores was simply ridiculous. The Orioles from Maryland won both games and won them casily, the Bridegrooms playing in a don't-care, listless style which fairly exasperated their friends. If the players were as slow in getting around to the secretary's office to draw their salaries some of the men would not get last month's pay until next year.

There were rumors about the grounds that there are internal dissentions in the team. One story was that President Byrne had interfered with Manager Foutz, and profiles was that the players have been dissipating. The another was that the players have been dissipating. The fact that Richardson has been laid off without pay, and the absence of Daly from the grounds, the only player competent to take Richardson's place, caused much comment. The large crowd showed its displeasure, and singular as the assertion may appear, most of the spectators deserted the home team and wanted the Orioles

The first game was started at 2 p. m. Stein enpeared out of sorts at the start, and the visitors made eight rur in the first four innings. Then Stein settled down and the Orloles made only one hit in the rest of the game. Then the Bridsgrooms braced up and showed a dis-position to play baseball, but the good resolution came

In the second game the Bridegrooms flattered the riends for a few limines and everybody was happy. The real trial came in the sixth finning, when the Orioles alfied, and the home players stopped playing. Haddock has pitched for three consecutive days, and he could not stand the strain. Foutz went in to pitch in the seventh inning, and only one hit was made off his delivery. Had the change been made an inning earlier Brooklyn would BALTIMORE.

There is no doubt that the property has been transferred to Mr. McCreery by Mr. Hammerstein, who has in turn received a lease of E, and has transferred the lease to his brother-in law, Mr. Rosenberg; but Mr. Hammerstein says that it is all a part of a real estate transaction, the extent and nature of which he does not at present wish to explain. The work of excavating in Getty Square preparatory to the laying of the asphalt pavement has brought to light relies of the old park which was formerly a feature of the square. In the centre of the square were found a lot of big stumps of trees, several of which were of enormous size. The removal of the stumps is watched with interest by many of the old stumps is watched with interest by many of the old residents, who exchange stories of the time when the park was the pride of the town. In the old village days, when the square was laid out as an "improvement," the big trees were cut down and their stumps were covered by the macadam roadbed. In stumps were covered by the macadam roadned. In the time of this park the Nepperhan was lined on both banks by gigantic trees which arched over the stream. These were removed long ago. Yonkers has now no public park. . . . The Common Council has voted to readvertise for bids for paving Palisade-ave, and thus admits that its original award of the con-tract was wrong. Before making his decision there was a hearing before the Comrettee on Public Works, at which all the members of the Common Council were present. F. V. Smith, of New-York, the coptractor whose bid was rejected, was present at the hearing and emphatically denied the charge that he had offered to withdraw his idd for $500. He also stated that J. B. Pennell, a member of the firm to which the contract was originally awarded, had asked him if he would sell his contract for $500. The three contractors gave their testimony under out at the hearing, and their statements were fluir contradictory. At the hearing Mr. Smith expressed his willingness to go on with the contract at the price stated in his bid, $52,000, which is about $5,800 less than the amount of the bid on which the contract was originally awarded. The action of the Council has been condemned by the property owners in Palisade-ave., and by the local papers, regardless of politics. The hearing has brought out some interesting information regarding the methods of contractors, and the criticism of the Aldermen is severe. There has been nothing like it in the manicipal history of Yonkers. . . An unusually large amount of street work is now under way, and new streets are being opened in all parts of the city. A man named George Glynn died at the house of George Donlan, No. 30 Orchardest., Jersey City, on July 11, from the effects of carbolic acid, self-administered, and County Physician Converse, after investigating the case, gave a burial permit, being satisfied that Glynn had committed suicide. Glynn's relatives made no allegation of foul play until it was found that a policy of 8100, for which Glynn's life had been insured, was missing. Then James Hayes, Glynn's brother-in-law, made a statement that Glynn had been living with Mrs. Donlan as her husband, and that he had been mardered. He did not say who had killed him. Mrs. Donlan said yesterday that Glynn did have his life insured for $100 at one time for the benefit of his sister, but there was no insurance, she said, on Glynn's life when he died.

The old charter has expired and in the new instrument the clause will not appear. A Sunday time table will be arranged in a few days.

PATERSON The weavers in the ribbon mills of Pelgram & Meyers, Paterson, may go on a strike on Monday. The firm alleges that there is no market for ribbon. and that there is necessity of a reduction in the men's pay of from 10 to 12 per cent. The men say the business is good, and the raw silk which they used is exceptionally low in price at the present time, and that all other mills are busy. The men seem inclined to accept fewer hours a day, but at the same rate they are now receiving. The men resolved to return word to the firm on Monday that they will accept no reduction. If it is insisted upon they will strike in a body on that day.
